Headline:
A sunnier and warmer day for many Saturday.

Today:
A dry morning with prolonged warm sunshine after a rather chilly start. A little more cloud through the afternoon but staying dry. Feeling warm inland with light winds. Sea breezes keeping things slightly cooler along North Sea coasts. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Tonight:
Staying largely fine and dry overnight with clear periods. Becoming cloudier later in the night with the odd spot of rain by dawn, mainly on western hills. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Sunday:
Variable cloud though widely dry with some sunny spells through the morning. A few afternoon showers breaking out, the odd one heavy and perhaps thundery. Light winds. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Remaining warm with plenty of fine, dry weather and light winds. The greatest risk of daytime showers on Monday and Tuesday, some heavy. Coastal mist and low cloud at times.
